

Translation of "Aye Qaum ke Jawaano"

O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,
Satan is everywhere, tread your Steps with Caution.

You possess awareness, courage, and wisdom too,
You have the awakening needed to defeat evil,
Do such deeds that you wipe out all wickedness,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

The progress of the Community is now in your hands,
If the boat is in midstream, take it to the shore,
You must remove hardships, make a firm resolve,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

Your work will be ruined if you rush through it,
Success will be yours only when patience is included,
Invest your heart only in what pleases Allaah,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

Stretch your legs only as far as your blanket extends,
How will you repay if you keep taking loans?
Reduce your desires, and put a check on your expenses,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

It is a sacred ritual, a symbol of modesty,
It brings elegance to the home, a story of happiness,
Marriage is beautiful, fulfill the promise you make,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

There is a heavenly drink that Allaah has bestowed,
You will receive its reward through your prayers,
Rid yourself now of the habit of evil wine (alcohol),
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

Everything has two sides, the good and the bad,
A mobile phone is in every hand—child, elder, and youth,
Dedicate a specific time to it, and reap its benefits,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

If someone tells you that you are the offspring of "Gen-Z",
Tell them with seriousness that you are not lost in ignorance,
A lot of hard work needs to be done, rise and take a step forward,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

In the passage of time, whatever comes eventually goes,
No one ever finds themselves remaining in the exact same state,
In your strength and youth, achieve whatever you want to achieve,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

It is the Saiyedna's desire that all of you live prosperously,
Prayers are made every moment that the Lord grants you progress,
Listen to what the Maulaa says, do what the Maulaa says,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little,

Paper, pen, and this table are not enough, "Anwar,"
Do something and show it, this is the question on everyone's tongue,
Make a collective resolve, join your hands together,
O Youth of the Community , Control yourselves a little.

Mishkaat ul Haadi: Rabi ul Awwal and Rabi ul Aakhar 1448